In this paper we study a nonlinear elliptic differential equation driven by the $p$-Laplacian with a multivalued boundary condition of the Neumann type. Using techniques from the theory of maximal monotone operators and a theorem of the range of the sum of monotone operators, we prove the existence of a (strong) solution.